

Essay Writer _____

Evaluator(s) _____

Women's Magazines Checklist

Does the introduction have a couple sentences introducing the general topic of women's magazines with a creative interesting "hook"?

Yes _____ No _____

Comments:

Does the introduction introduce Blakely and her article correctly? Check for any mistakes from the quotations handout.

Yes _____ No _____

Comments:

And does it have a thesis utilizing the thesis formula?

Yes _____ No _____

Comments:

Either in the introduction or the next paragraph does the writer introduce their study and tell what magazines will be examined?

Yes _____ No _____

Comments:

Does the writer organize the essay using the outlines I put on the board for each body paragraph, utilizing Blakely's classifications from the "magic box" with a formula for each topic sentence?

Yes _____ No _____

Comments:

Does the writer have sufficient support that is described well and then analyzed thoroughly and thoughtfully right after the description? And does each paragraph include Blakely for support?

Yes _____ No _____

Comments:

Look at the writer's paragraph structure. Does it have sufficient support including statistics from the available studies and descriptive examples from his or her own study with a relevance portion that clearly explains the support?

Yes _____ No _____

Comments:

Has the writer classified the articles discussed according to whether they are helpful or not? Does the writer give examples of each kind of article mentioned?

Yes _____ No _____

Is the conclusion developed and supported by the content of the essay?

Yes _____ No _____

Don't forget to make checkmark corrections on your previous summary or essay. You need to get 70% of them correct to avoid a check mark violation. Also your proofreading exercises need to be in your folder or you will get a No Credit for the section.